Irrigation Crop Diversification Corporation FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

March 31, 2018

May 31, 2018

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of Irrigation Crop Diversification Corporation

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Irrigation Crop Diversification Corporation, which comprise the statement of financial position as at March 31, 2018 and the statements of revenue and expenditures, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes which comprise a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Irrigation Crop Diversification Corporation as at March 31, 2018 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Restated comparative information

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to note 11 to the financial statements, which explains that certain comparative information for the year ended March 31, 2017 and certain balances as at April 1, 2016 have been restated. The financial statements of Irrigation Crop Diversification Corporation for the year ended March 31, 2016 (prior to the restatement of certain balances as at April 1, 2015) were audited by another auditor who expressed a qualified opinion on those financial statements on June 30, 2016 due to the completeness of a portion of revenue not being susceptible to satisfactory audit verification.

Notes to the Financial Statements

March 31, 2018

1 Nature of operations

- a) The objectives of Irrigation Crop Diversification Corporation ("ICDC" or "the corporation") are as follows:
 - i) to research and demonstrate to producers and irrigation districts profitable agronomic practices for irrigated crops;
 - ii) to develop, or assist, in developing varieties of crops suitable for irrigated conditions;
 - iii) to provide land, facilities and technical support to researchers in order to conduct research into irrigation technology, cropping systems and soil and water conservation measures under irrigation and to provide information regarding that research to district consumers, irrigation districts and the public; and
 - iv) to co-operate with the Minister of Saskatchewan Agriculture in promoting and developing sustainable irrigation in Saskatchewan.
- b) ICDC was established under the Irrigation Act of 1996. ICDC is not an agent of the Crown. Membership consists of irrigation districts established throughout the province of Saskatchewan. ICDC is a non-profit organization exempt from Income Tax under section 149(1)(j) of the Income Tax Act.
 - ICDC competes for funding from government programs, grower's associations and any other opportunities it encounters. ICDC is a partner of the Canada Saskatchewan Irrigation Diversification Centre (CSIDC) in conducting specific research, the results of which are transmitted to ICDC as well as to the funding entities. Levies assessed on irrigation districts and other irrigated lands are used to fund research as well as the operating costs of the corporation.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

a) Basis of presentation

These financial statements are presented in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for- profit organizations ("ASNPO").

b) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with ASNPO requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenue and expenditures during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

c) Tangible capital assets

Tangible capital assets are recorded at cost and amortized over their expected useful lives. Tangible capital assets are depreciated at the following rates and methods, with the exception of one-half the given rates in the year of purchase:

Equipment 20% declining balance
Computer equipment 30% declining balance
Motor vehicles 30% declining balance

d) Revenue recognition

Member levies are recognized in the period they are earned. Refunds are recognized using the accrual method based on actual requests submitted by irrigation districts.

The corporation follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions, including research contracts, project funding and grants. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured. Restricted contributions for expenses of the current period are recognized as revenue in the current period and restricted contributions for expenses of one or more future periods are deferred and recognized as revenue in the same period or periods as the related expenses are recognized.

Contributions of materials and services are recognized only when a fair value can be reasonably estimated and when the materials and services are used in the normal course of the corporation's operations and would otherwise have been purchased.

e) Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities, consisting of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities are initially recognized at fair value and subsequent measurement is at amortized cost. The corporation does not consider itself to have significant exposure to credit risk, currency risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk, market risk or other price risk.
